Remember: What you do is determined by what you think of you.

These descriptions are the truth about you and should be what you think of you. You may have always believed lies because you were told them by people you viewed as credible.

But God is the most credible source, and this list is what God says about you.

As you read through the list, some of it may be difficult for you to believe. They may be things you want to believe about yourself, but can't quite yet. It's easier to keep believing the lies. But we want to — and through God's power we can — break free from the lies that have been holding us back and instead let God tattoo us with our true identity. It can happen for you. Ask God to help you!

You are the one Jesus loves.
